OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 2, 1862

The Mountaineer and the Secesh State Ticket

We give a rich article from the Mountaineer in regard to the secesh State nominations The Mountaineer editor, in speaking of the manner in which the nominations were made, and of the nominees generally, speaks from personal knowledge, though, perhaps, in one or two cases, he desires to cover up the deficiences of some special friends

The whole Convention was a cheat, in this that it pretended to represent the Union sentiment when all its movers and controllers, if they dare, would raise the Jeff Davis standard in our State The hearts of most of the members are in the South, and they fully respond, whenever they speak their sentiments to those uttered and proved upon John F. Miller—that he was in feeling with the South, and could never be made to bear arms against this rebellion

A Convention, designed to be a cheat, and carried out as a cheat, can never make binding nominations on a party. We therefore do not wonder that the Mountaineer, in the honesty of his soul, withdraws the veil from the proceedings of the secesh Convention, and denounces them Go on—you are right

The nominations made at the Union Convention were fairly made They are binding on the Union men of the State, and the Union men of the State will stand up to them Possibly, probably, there may be individuals on that ticket who do not suit every Union man. If that is so, and such men support the nominees, it will evince a high devotion to the interests of the country—a patriotism that throws to the wind private prejudices when a great public object is to be accomplished. We place the preservation of the Union far above private prejudices, private interests, or old party feelings We go for our ticket, because that is the only way in which we can best sustain the Union and Government

Democratic State Convention.

The editor having been present at the meeting of the Democratic State Convention he will naturally be expected to say something of the proceedings of that body As in all assemblages of the kind, two elements were at work—the one actuated by patriotic impulses, the other knowing no higher motive than a greedy thirst for the spoils The division was about equal in point of numbers, and it required the co-operation of both to arrive at a result. There was another and a third element, which was steadily kept in the back ground, but yet, such was its [illegible] visible character, that it would occasionally make itself manifest. We will be understood as alluding to the secessionists, the number of whom was decidedly large This was shown in the vote for Governor, the nomination of candidate for State Printer, and in fact in every office outside of Congressman. We by no means charge that all the gentlemen placed in nomination for State offices are secessionists but we do say that they are each and all acceptable to those who believe in the secession doctrine This is a fact that will not be questioned by any one who was present and closely scanned the proceedings of the Convention From the first, it was apparent, that the name of Judge Wait was to be used as a make-weight for the balance of the ticket, and this programme was carried out to the end. On the great question of the day Judge Wait is the only man on the ticket whose record is clear and untarnished — From the breaking out of the war down to the present moment, he has never hesitated to denounce secession, and he has ever avowed his willingness to "vote the last man and the last dollar to put down the rebellion For his outspoken patriotism in this regard he is deserving the support of all those who truly love the Union The nominee for Governor, is a courteous gentleman and one who in private life we greatly esteem He served with us on the Committee on Resolutions, and in that capacity expressed a desire to have a strong 'Union Platform' Subsequent to his nomination, a delegate from Multnomah county informed us that Col Miller, whilst on a visit to Portland, expressed very decided secession sentiments It is to be hoped that the Gubernatorial candidate will be able to explain this apparent inconsistency Hon Geo L Vining, the candidate for Secretary of State, is charged with being a secession sympathizer. There is no proof to substantiate this charge, and in the absence of any such testimony, we are unwilling to believe that he is a traitor to his country The nominee for State Treasurer J B Greer, has never been a democrat, and it puzzles very many to know how he succeeded in getting a place on the Democratic State ticket A gentleman who knows Mr Greer well, informs us, that he rejoiced over the defeat of the Union troops at the battle of Bull Run If this be so, his name will add but little strength to the ticket Of the nominee for State Printer, the least said the best. Between Harvey Gordon and A. Noltner, there is very little choice Those who deem honesty a requisite in an official position will be state about voting for either of the gentlemen who have been placed in nomination for State Printer — Happily the name of Mr Walling of the Farmer is before the public in connection with this office and as between the three, we regard him as immeasurably the best man for the place We have thus hastily glanced at the proceedings of the Convention In the course of the canvass, we shall have much to say of the different individuals who aspire to rule the State for the next four years

PORTLAND, April 6, 1862

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Pardon me for obtruding upon your columns, but I cannot refrain from expressing much surprise at the crazy, transparent and futile attempts now being made by the so called 'Union (?) Democratic Party" of this State to elect their spurious ticket A party mainly composed of and totally headed by men who are well known by every honest and loyal man in this State to be admirers of and sympathizers with the 'Chivalric South,' and who would gladly sacrifice their last particle of gold (not blood) to overthrow the Government which holds their dishonesty in check Yet they boldly face the world and call themselves "Union Democrats' Ye gods, what a misnomer! That alone stamps the ticket and proves that duplicity is its chief characteristic After all, what's in a name? "They would smell just as sweet under any other name" So that is a secondary matter The amusing part is the wire pulling going on amongst each other It's "You tickle me," &c

There is secession John, for instance let us see what he is up to He has employed the firm of Quirk, Gammon & Snap, as brokers to buy our State and sell it to Secessia—terms, private A special article of agreement in this firm, is, "that one shall not steal from the other" Those gentlemen will find to their chagrin that disappointment awaits them, for the simple reason that the true democracy are not going to sell Union stock is going up The aforesaid firm are now chuckling amongst themselves in eager anticipation of the profits to accrue from this job, and, to give the devil his due, better men could not have been selected than some of them for such a purpose John had better watch sharp in his dealings with them He and no one else, I guess, will be the victim Mr Quirk aspires to high position he will hardly screw himself to so high an eminence Burnt children dread the fire He is known to be a janus faced man, he makes office pay well, and who blames him for his aspirations? But enough of him, we'll turn down that page

There is Mr Gammon, also Well, singular as it may seem, he is the most plausible old fellow in the firm He has Quirk and Snap to do his dirty work, but by and by they will blow on him, and he will then depart this political life like his namesake, by his own hands What he says is moderate but mark me, sir—Gammon is lying in wait

And the junior partner, Mr Snap I hardly know what class of beasts he belongs to His political friends say that "he is neither pig nor puppy" The best description of the thing I have heard is given by his political friend and "statesman," who said he was a slippery cuss" No one owns him long

And now, Mr Editor, can it be that, upon the very eve of our glorious suppression of Southern rebellion, our noble State of Oregon has got to become another disloyal State by being placed under the rule of such a precious band of traitors? No, by no means We have more confidence in the Union people of Oregon If every voter in this State will take both tickets and acquaint himself with the character, principles and antecedents, of each and every candidate on them, the result will be a glorious and triumphant overthrow of the disunion democracy. OBSERVER

From the Upper Columbia

The following items are from the Dalles Mountaineer

A gentleman just down from Lewiston, informs us that the merchants of that town have raised a fund of $10,000 which they offer as a bonus to any responsible party who will place a boat on the Upper Columbia, suited to the requirements of the trade

THE RAILROAD —The laying of the rails along Main street, and for a mile and a half beyond the city limits is now completed The road is graded for six and a half miles—more than half the whole distance

MINES —It is within the bounds of truth to say that one thousand persons have left the Dalles for the mines within the last week, most of them overland

NEZ PERCES MINES —Mr. M Stratton writing to L H Wakefield, Esq., under date "Oro Fino, April 10th," says "The dull monotony of the winter season is being somewhat alleviated by the appearance of a general thaw which is certainly looked for with some anxiety not only by the miners, but also the merchants Some few miners have already commenced work, but of course experience a good deal of inconvenience, as they have either to shovel or build fires and melt some five or six feet of snow from the ground Scurvy is quite prevalent here which of course produces a brisk demand for every thing in the vegetable line

DIED FOR HIS COUNTRY —We are sorry to learn that Joseph Wilson, Esq , of Salem, recently met with the loss of a brother in the East He died from the effects of a wound received while gallantly leading a company from Ohio to the charge at the storming of Fort Donnelson.

General McClellan's Address to the Army of the Potomac

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC }
FAIRFAX C. H., VA., March 14, 1862 }

Soldiers of the Army of the Potomac For a long time I have kept you inactive, but not without a purpose You were to be disciplined armed and instructed, the formidable artillery you now have had to be created, other armies were to move and accomplish certain results. I have held you back that you might give the death blow to the rebellion, that has distracted our once happy country The patience you have shown and your confidence in your General are worth a dozen victories these preliminary results are now accomplished I feel that the patient labors of many months have produced their fruit the Army of the Potomac is a real army—magnificent in material, admirable in discipline and instruction, excellently equipped and armed—your commanders are all I could wish The moment for action has now arrived, and I know that I can trust in you to save our country As I ride through your ranks, I see in your faces the sure presage of victory, I feel that you will do what I ask of you The period of inaction has passed I will now bring you face to face with the rebels, and only pray that God may defend the right In whatever direction you may move, however strange my actions may appear to you ever bear in mind that my fate is linked with yours and that all I do is to bring you, where I know you wish to be—on the decisive battle field It is my business to place you there I am to watch over you as a parent over his children and you know that your General loves you from the depths of his heart It shall be my care, as it has ever been, to gain success with the least possible loss but I know that, if it is necessary, you will willingly follow me to our graves for our righteous cause God smiles upon us, victory attends us, yet I would not have you think that our aim is to be obtained without a manly struggle I will not disguise it from you, you have brave foes to encounter, foemen well worthy of the steel that you will use so well I shall demand of you great, heroic exertions, rapid and long marches desperate combats, privations perhaps We shall share all these together, and when this sad war is over we will return to our homes, and feel that we can ask no higher honor than the proud consciousness that we belonged to the Army of the Potomac

GEORGE B. McCLELLAN,
Major General Commanding

CONFISCATION OF REBEL PROPERTY —Trumbull's Confiscation Bill in the Senate is by no means a sweeping proposition to confiscate all the property in the seceded States, as its opponents represent It does not even confiscate the property of rebels generally, but only of such rebels as shall be beyond the reach of judicial process The bill goes upon the principle that when the rebel can be caught, and punishment inflicted upon his person that that is sufficient without confiscating his property also. When the rebel abandons his property and escapes, so that judicial process cannot be served on him the bill proposes to take his property, including slaves and this is all there is of it It is prospective in its operation and only applies to the property of persons in rebellion after its passage, and would consequently have very little effect in such States as Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee as very few persons have left those States who would be in arms against the Government at the time of the passage of the bill The most important portion of the bill is the second section, which frees the slaves of rebels, and forbids any person reclaiming them till he first proves that he is or has been loyal to the Government during the rebellion

THE WOMEN OF NASHVILLE —A Nashville correspondent of the Cincinnati Times says "For some unaccountable reason the women of this section do not favor the Northern soldiers In their march towards Nashville they were frequently greeted by some female dwellers by the roadside with 'There go the Yankees,' 'We'll soon see another Bull Run' and other expressions not very complimentary to Northern ears On one occasion, as Gen Nelson was riding at the head of his command, one of these female secessionists thrust her head from the window and screamed 'Hurrah for Jeff Davis! Hurrah for Jeff Davis!' This was too much for the temper of the General and riding close to the fence, he shouted, 'Madam if you repeat that again, I'll be cursed if I don't quarter a man in your house who is covered all over with the small pox' That had the desired effect and the adulator of Jeff Davis retired into obscurity until the soldiers were out of sight"

AN "ABOLITION" WAR —The Marysville Appeal says It is remarkable to notice how, in general ideas the secession or "peace" Democrats agree with the abolitionists in their views upon the war. Stephen C. Foster, a rabid Boston abolitionist, lately said I would not support the Government in its present position I have endeavored to dissuade every young man I could from enlisting, telling them that they were going to fight for slavery" With the alteration of a single word that might be the language of every secesh sheet in this State, who do all they can to discourage men from enlisting in this war, and who have, from the first sought to throw every possible obstacle in the way of its successful prosecution, and yet such sheets have the impudence to call the supporters of the war policy—"abolitionists"

SLAVE PROPERTY —Prentice says that a year and a-half ago the slave property of the Southern Confederacy was estimated at four billion dollars. Now it wouldn't bring a fifth part of that sum And yet the rebels went into the rebellion for the avowed purpose of promoting or protecting the interest of slavery Have they not a most unfortunate mode of adapting means to ends!

By Last Night's Mail.

The stage arrived last night at six o clock —in seven and a half days from Sacramento

There is no news from the East The Eastern wires were not working Fears were expressed that the Indians are going to interfere with the telegraph line on the plains

The following items we clip from the Sacramento Union of April 24th

INDIAN DEPREDATIONS IN HONEY LAKE VALLEY —A letter from E D Morrison, dated Susanville, Honey Lake Valley April 14th has been received here by Governor Roop. It relates to Indian disturbances On the 29th of March, Capt Lathrop, with fifty seven men left Susanville on foot, and at last accounts they had a fight upon Indians [illegible] at Painter Cañon Since the company left other Indians have run off stock burned houses, and murdered whites at Susanville The letter says "Your old friend Capt [illegible], was shot the other morning in the corral Townsend, Governor Roop's Agent was killed while taking a load of lumber from your mill to Haveland's, and his team was driven away One of Rost's boys was shot with three balls yesterday, while out looking for their stock Up to this time there have been five more whites killed whom we know of Your ox team is also gone Another company, under Capt. Weatherton, will start out to morrow The letter makes a strong appeal for aid, and urges Governor Roop to return to the Valley An acknowledgment is made of the receipt of an order for guns from Gen Kibbe

A new post office has been established at Sandy, Multnomah county, James M Stott, Postmaster

THE MAGAZINE AT MARE ISLAND —A Benician, writing to the Bulletin, expresses some fears as to the safety of the magazine at Mare Island Navy Yard He says a relative of a well known rebel and some discharged secessionists are in daily conference, and have excited suspicion

Joseph Gosling and eighty five others, who lately arrived at San Francisco as steerage passengers in the steamship St. Louis, have commenced suit against that vessel for violation of the passenger contract

SISTERS, ROUSE!

Sisters, rouse! to duty wake!
From the toils of Fashion break—
Man will die for woman's sake;
Teach him how to live.

Teach him, sisters, by your lives,
Whether matrons, maids, or wives,
Purity of heart survives
Fortune's fickle gales.

Count it not a sacrifice,
Though no trumpet rend the skies,
Heralding thy victories
Over pride and will

She who wisely rules the heart,
Bears in life the noblest part
Proves herself in all life's mart,
"God's best gift to man."

Sisters, prove yourselves the same—
Man will not dispute the claim—
On your greatness rests his fame:
As you rise he soars!

Would you then assert your right,
Scale Ambition's loftiest height,
Nor her Eagle put to flight?
Plume your wings with love!

By the fireside's sacred stone
Build your kindom rear your throne,
Prove that ye, "bone of his bone,"
Reign, the Queen of hearts!

On the altar of your hearth
Pour the vials of your worth—
These shall not be lost to earth—
These thy crowns shall star!

Recipe for Potato Pudding

"Do you sweeten it?"

"Oh, yes, to be sure it needs sugar, the best o' sugar too; not this wet, soggy, brown sugar. Some folks never think o' usin' good sugar to cook with, but for my part, I won't have no other."

"How much sugar do you take?"

"Wal, that depends altogether on whether you intend to have sass for it—some like sass, you know and then some agin don't. So, when I calc'late for sass, I don't take so much sugar and when I don't calc'late for sass, I make it sweet enough to eat without sass. Poor Mr Mudlaw was a great hand for puddin'-sass. I always made it for him—good, rich sass, too. I could afford to have things rich before he was unfortinate in bisness." (Mudlaw went to State's Prison for horse-stealing.) "I like sass myself, too; and the curnel and the children are all great sass hands; and so I ginerly calc'late for sass, though Miss Philpot prefers the puddin' without sass, and perhaps you'd prefer it without sass. If so, you must put in sugar accordingly. I always make it a pint to have 'em sweet enough when they are to be eat without sass."

"And don't you use eggs?"

"Certainly, eggs is one o' the principal ingrejiences."

"How many does it require?"

"Wall, when eggs is plenty, I always use plenty; and when they're scarce, why I can do with less, though I'd ruther have enough. And be sure and beat 'em well. It does distress me, the way some folks beat eggs. I always want to have 'em thoroughly beat for everything I use 'em in. It tries my patience most awfully to have anybody round me that won't beat eggs enough. A spell ago we had a darkey to help in the kitchen. One day I was a makin' sponge cake, and havin' occasion to go up stairs after something, I sot her to beatin' the eggs. Wal, what do you think the critter done? Why, she whisked 'em round a few times, and turned them round a few times, and turned them right out onto the other ingrejiences that I'd got weighed out. When I came back and saw what she'd done, my gracious! I came as nigh to losin' my temper as I ever allow myself to come. 'Twas awful provokin'! I always want the kitchen help to do things as I want to have 'em done. But I never saw a darkey yet that ever done anything right. They're a lazy, slaughterin' set. To think of her spilin' that cake so when I'd told her over and over agin that I always made it a pint to have my eggs thoroughly beat."

"Yes, it was too bad. Do you use fruit in the pudding?"

"Wal, that's jest as you please. You had better be governed by your own judgment as to that. Some like currants, and some like raisins, and then agin some don't like nary one. If you use raisins, for pity's sake take out the stuns. It's awful to have a body's teeth come grindin' onto a raisin stun. I'd rather have my ears boxt any time."

"How many raisins must I take?"

"Wal, not too many—it's apt to make the puddin' heavy, you know; and if it's heavy, it ain't so light and good. I'm a great hand"

"Yes. What do you use for flavoring?"

"There agin you'll have to exercise your own judgment. Some likes one thing, and some another, you know. If you go the hull figger on temperance, why some other kind o' flavorin' 'll do as well as wine or brandy, I s'pose. But whatever you make up your mind to use, be partic'lar to git in a sufficiency, or else your puddin' 'll be flat. I always make it a pint"

"How long must it bake?"

"There's the great thing after all. The bakin' 's the main pint. A potater puddin', of all puddin's, has got to be baked jest right. For if it bakes a leetle too much, it's apt to dry it up; and then agin if it don't bake enough, it's sure to taste potatery, and that spiles it you know."

"How long should you think?"

"Wal, that depends a good deal on the heat of your oven. If you have a very hot oven, it won't do to leave it in too long, and if your oven ain't so very hot, why, then, you'll be necessitated to leave it in a little longer."

"Well, how can I tell anything about it?"

"Why, I always let 'em bake till I think they're done—that's the safest way. I make it a pint to have 'em baked exactly right. It's very important in all kinds o' bakin'—cakes, pies, bread, puddin's, and everything—to have 'em baked precisely long enough, and jest right. Some folks don't seem to have no system at all about their bakin'. One time they'll burn their bread to a crisp, and then agin it 'll be so slack 'tain't fit to eat. Nothing hurts my feelin's so much as to see things overdone or slack baked. Here only t'other day, Lorry, the girl that Miss Philpot dismissed yesterday, come within an ace o' letting my bread burn up. My back was turned a minnit, and what should she do but go to stuffin' wood into the stove at the awfullest rate? If I hadn't found it out jest when I did, my bread would a ben spilt as sure as I'm a live woman — Jubiter Rammin! I was about as much decomposed as I ever allow myself to git! I told Miss Philpot I wouldn't stan' it no longer—one of us must quit—either Lorry or me must walk."

"So you have no rule about baking pudding?"

"No rule?" said Mudlaw, with a look of intense surprise.

"Yes," said Mrs. Darling, "you seem to have no rule for anything about it."

(To be concluded.)

If the world knocks you down and jostles you in its great race, don't set whining under people's feet, but get up, rub your elbows, and begin again.

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make A TIGHT LOCK STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather; and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine, &c. Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victim of Self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the fangs of disease, who having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of an uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances, months, of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain medicines would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength, and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my mind has again become clear and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate against falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 2, 18..

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have finished the last of your medicine and do not think I shall want any more, as I feel very well except that I have not quite got my strength yet, but soon will with the help of God. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I came to your institute with my constitution, as I thought, entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and at the same time my nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery, from all the symptoms and the removal of those sores and eruptions from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the blotches on the page of those emissions which you said were partly the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having yet got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, for I think myself cheaply cured. If you think such a letter will benefit you you may put this letter in the papers. I remain gratefully yours, THOMAS BAKER.

Thankfulness is the incentive to...

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of gratitude, I wish to lay before the public a case which I think deserves commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but also of humanity also. About two years ago, I and by causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of sickness, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies I yet endured the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from the weather, as ones who sought to prolong the existence of my sufferings. While in this state and having, previous to my sickness, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to try seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my distress and my inability to reward him for his services, which however he at once undertook my case, and by the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I have received, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I deem it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
